

Marwa M. El-Ashmouni

C.V. | Aug. 2020

Work Address:

Department of Architectural Engineering,
Faculty of Engineering,
Beni-Suef University
Egypt

Home Address:

Al-Mustaqbal (Future) Tower no.1,
Shalaby District
El-Minia Governate
Fourth floor
Egypt

 : + (20) 10-999-80-942

E-Mail: mmoustafa2020@gmail.com

QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD Title: The Rationale of Architectural Discourses in Post-Independence Egypt
University of Adelaide (2013)
Department of Architecture and Built Environment
- M. A. Title: Imagining the Alchemy of Shrinkage between the Real and the Ideal: A Resilient Design in Evolution in Flint, Michigan
Ball State University (2007)
Department of Architecture and Urban Planning
GPA 3.8
Major area: Architecture
Minor area: Urban Planning and Landscape
- Diploma Minia University, Egypt (2001-2000), very good.
Preliminary year of Master of Architecture
Department of Architecture, College of Engineering
Major Area: Planning
- B. A. Minia University, Egypt (1999-2000), very good with honor.
Department of Architecture, Faculty of Engineering
Major area: Architecture
Minor area: Planning, Landscape

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- 2013- Present Assistant Professor, Department of Architecture, University of Beni-Suef, Egypt.
- 2017-Present Part time, Assistant Professor, Department of Architecture, NAHDA University,
Beni-Suef, Egypt.
- 2013-2017 Part time, Assistant Professor, Higher Institute of Technology, Minia, Egypt.
- 2012- 2013 Teaching assistant, Dr. Katharine Bartsch, History Theory 2, University of Adelaide, AU.

- 2012- 2013 Research Assistant “Modernism and Australian Architects. ” University funded Project: Dr. Peter Scriver and Dr. Amit Srivastava (CAMEA)
- 2012- 2013 Research Assistant “India & Iran Habitat I: Rethinking the Modern Project for the Asian Century.” University funded Project: Dr. Amit Srivastava (CAMEA)
- 2010-2011 Teaching assistant, Dr. Amit Srivastava, History Theory 1, University of Adelaide, AU.
- 2007-09 Teaching Assistant, Department of Architecture, College of Engineering, Beni-Suef University, Egypt.
- 2006-07 Research Assistant, “Shrinking cities: Flint Michigan” Land Bank funded project in the City of Flint: Dr. Wes Janz. Department of Architecture, Ball State University, USA.
- 2003-2005 Demonstrator, Department of Architecture, Beni Sueif University, Egypt.
- 2002-03 Architect at the Institution of Educational Buildings, Egypt.
- 2000-02 Instructor, two-year contract, Instructor (Descriptive Geometry & Design Studios), Department of Architecture, El-Minia University, Egypt.

RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIPS/RECOGNITIONS

Early Career Research Fellowship, University of Adelaide (2014)., Adelaide, South Australia [AU $10,000].

University Medal for Doctoral Thesis Excellence (2013).

<https://www.adelaide.edu.au/graduatecentre/current-students/your-thesis-examination/research-student-excellence-awards#2013>

ASI School of Architecture (2009-2012), University of Adelaide, Adelaide, South Australia [AU$90,600].

MSc. Scholarship, School of Architecture (2006-2007), Ball State University, Muncie, IN. [US $8,000].

Research Abroad Scholarship (2011). University of Adelaide, Adelaide, South Australia (3.000$)

Master Educational Scholarship (2001-2002)., College of Engineering, Minia University, Egypt.

PUBLICATIONS AND CONFERENCES

Salama, Ashraf and Marwa El-Ashmouni, Architectural Excellence in Islamic Societies (UK: Routledge, forthcoming August 2020). <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/9781351057493>

El-Ashmouni, Marwa and Ashraf M. Salama, Contemporary Architecture of Cairo (1990 – 2020): Mutational Plurality of ‘Isms’, Decolonialism, and Cosmopolitanism (Open House International, July 2020). <https://www.emerald.com/insight/content/doi/10.1108/OHI-04-2020-0007/full/html>

El-Ashmouni, Marwa, "Architectural Cosmopolitanism, Decolonization, and Sustainable Cultural Tourism: Both ‘Familiarity’ And ‘Escapism’ since Nineteenth-Century Egypt," in eds. Uglješa Stankov, Sofia-Natalia Boemi, et al. Cultural Sustainable Tourism: A Selection of Research Papers from IEREK Conference on Cultural Sustainable Tourism (CST), Greece 2017 (Switzerland: Springer, 2019), pp 47-57.

El-Ashmouni, Marwa, "Interrogating Egyptian Nationalism: Transcultural Architecture at the Ragged Edge of Empire." Archnet-IJAR, vol 12 (1), January 2018.

<https://archnet.org/publications/12995>

El-Ashmouni, Marwa, "Architecture and Sustainable Cultural Tourism in Nineteenth Century Egypt: Cosmopolitanism and Decolonisation," the International Conference: Cultural Sustainable Tourism, CST 2017, Greece. Proceedings of Science and Technology in Collaboration with Springer.

El-Ashmouni, Marwa, "Ambivalent Routes: Negotiating Architectural Identities in Postcolonial Egypt" in ed. Christiane Gruber. Islamic Architecture on the Move: Motion and Modernity, (Chicago University Press, 2016).

El-Ashmouni, Marwa and Katharine Bartsch, "Egypt's Age of Transition: Unintentional Cosmopolitanism during the Reign of Muhammad ‘Alī (1805-1848)." Arab Studies Quarterly, vol 36 (1), January 2014.

El-Ashmouni, Marwa. "Ambivalent Routes: Negotiating Architectural Identities in Postcolonial Egypt" The International Journal of Islamic Architecture (IJIA), vol3 (2), July 2014.

El-Ashmouni, Marwa and Katharine Bartsch, 2012. "Influence and Resistance: The Rationale of the al-Imarah Discourse (1939-59)." Fabulation: Myth, Nature, Heritage: 29th Annual Conference of the Society of Architectural Historians, Australia and New Zealand [SAHANZ], Launceston.CD ROM.